DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 2, 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Morozumi et al. (U.S. Patent 6,628,208).

Regarding claim 1:

Morozumi discloses a device for examining liquids, comprising: a structural device (fig. 3); an evaluation device integrated in said structural device, said evaluation device having a data memory (fig. 2, unit 40,50, 20), a voltage supply unit, a display device, an operating system (fig. 2, unit 49), a processor (fig. 2, unit 51), and components for a mobile radio function (fig. 2, unit 30); an interface module integrated in said structural device (fig. 2, unit 3), said interface module having at least one voltage regulator, a preamplifier and a processor (fig. 2, unit 7, 49); at least one exchangeable sensor connected to said evaluation device through said interface module, said exchangeable sensor formed as a card and having at least one measuring device, a sample receiving channel (Col. 5, Lines 14-28), a heating element, a temperature sensor and a coding device (Col. 4, Lines 44-58), said exchangeable sensor electrically and mechanically connected to unit in an inserted state (fig. 2, unit 6, 5); and said structural serial electrical plug-in connections disposed on said interface module and said exchangeable sensor for connecting said interface module to said exchangeable sensor (Col. 5, Lines 14-28, fig. 2, unit 6, 5, 22).

Regarding claim 2, Morozumi discloses an electrical regulator to said voltage conductor track connecting said voltage supply unit (fig. 2, unit 49, 50); and a serial data line connecting said processor of said interface module to said data memory of said evaluation device (Col. 5, Lines 14-28, fig. 2, unit 6, 5, 22, 50).

Regarding claim 3, Morozumi discloses signal lines; wherein said preamplifier has a signal output (fig. 1d, unit 11); and wherein said processor of said interface module has signal inputs connected to said signal output of said preamplifier (fig. 2, unit 45, 50, 20), temperature said signal inputs further connected to said sensor and said coding device through said signal lines and said serial electrical plug-in connections (fig. 2, unit 6, 5).

Claim Objections

2. Claims 4, 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all the limitation of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: prior art fail to teach the exchangeable sensor has electrical conductor tracks connected between said heating element and said serial electrical plug-in connections and between said electrodes and said serial electrical plug-in connections, said heating element and said electrodes connected to said voltage regulator through said electrical conductor tracks and said serial electrical plug-in connections. a number of measurements which can still be performed and have already been carried out, a batch number, a date of manufacture and a service life of said exchangeable sensor.

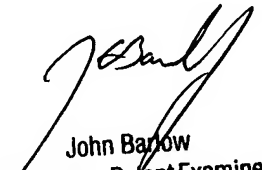

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
